

Frequently Asked Questions

My community doesn't have a Dillon's Food Store. Can I participate in the Neighbor to Neighbor food drive?

Yes! If there is not a Dillon's Food Store in your community or county, we encourage you to start your own Neighbor to Neighbor food drive at one of the following locations:

- Local FFA chapter
- Local elementary school
- County locations, such as extension or Farm Bureau offices

Contact the food bank servicing your region {map attached} to request a food drop box at any listed location.

- Harvesters – The Community Food Network: Jannett Weins at 877-653-9517 or fooddrive@harvesters.org
- Kansas Food Bank Warehouse: Debi Kreutzman at 316-265-3663 or info@kansasfoodbank.org
- Second Harvest Community Food Bank: Tamara Grubb at 816-364-3663 or tgrubb@ourcommunityfoodbank.org

You can also donate online. Use the food bank service area map to find your food bank and visit their virtual food drive link, listed below. Kansans living in the Second Harvest Community Food Bank service area should use the Harvesters virtual food drive link. Donations will be distributed according to donor location.

What resources are available for teachers to incorporate Kansas Agriculture Day into the classroom?

Visit the Ag Day website at agriculture.ks.gov/ksagcelebrations to view a listing of school resources for Agriculture Day this year. You will find a list of lesson plan resources, suggested morning announcements and recommendations for hosting an Agriculture Day event in the classroom.

What is happening on Kansas Ag Day, March 18, 2015?

You are invited to join us in at the state capitol in Topeka, Kan. for the culmination of the Neighbor to Neighbor food drive and to learn about the efforts of our state agricultural organizations in the state capitol rotunda. Detailed information about each event can be found at the Ag Day website, agriculture.ks.gov/ksagcelebrations.

Who should I contact if I have questions?

Contact the Kansas Department of Agriculture at Events@kda.ks.gov or 785-564-6700 with any questions.
